

CITY ITEMS.

Hon. R. L. Mayfield will address the people of Clarksville, Tenn., Friday night. Subject: "The Negro of yesterday and of to-day."

Miss Belma Mahan, of the stenographic force of the National Baptist Publishing House, was called to her home in Little Rock, Ark., last Saturday, on account of her father's serious illness. Recent letters from Miss Mahan contain the welcome intelligence that her father is better and hopes are entertained for a speedy recovery.

Prof. F. J. Work, lately instructor of music at Atlanta Baptist College is in the city and has a number of pupils who will receive musical instruction under his new method.

Mrs. Lizzie Bransford and sister, Mrs. Sarah Harding, entertained Friday evening at 5 o'clock tea, Mrs. Smith, Mr. Robt. Woodson, Rev. Goodall, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Franklin, Rev. and Mrs. Flagg, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Forest and Master Wm. Franklin, Jr.

Rev. J. E. Phipps, of Africa, preached at the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church to a large congregation last Sunday morning. On Thursday night he lectured to the mission class and exhibited his curios.

Mr. Jesse Randolph, of Patterson street, is sick.

Miss Ada Lee Harris, of Fourth avenue, South, is slowly improving.

Mr. Young Alexander, of Hynes street, who was very painfully hurt at McCullough's mill is rapidly recovering.

Capt. McHenry and son were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carter, 713 Gay street.

Mr. John Sublett, of Patterson street, who recently stuck a nail in his hand and from which he has been confined to the house for some weeks, is able to attend to his work again.

Mrs. James W. Wright, who has been the guest of Mrs. Robt. G. Eason, of 318 Eighth avenue, North, left for her home in St. Louis, Monday morning.

Mrs. Thomas A. Ewing, of 501 Eighth avenue, North, had at tea Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Robt. C. Eason and their guest Mrs. James W. Wright, of St. Louis, Mo.

Owing to a quorum not being present there was no monthly meeting of the National Baptist Publishing Board Tuesday.

Rev. E. C. Morris, D. D., of Helena, Ark., did not arrive to attend the Publishing Board meeting Tuesday as was expected.

Rev. C. H. Clark, D. D., pastor of Mount Olive Baptist Church, Cedar street, left the city Wednesday for Savannah, Ga., where he will spend a fortnight assisting Dr. Carr in a revival. The church where the meetings will be held and of which Dr. Carr is pastor, is said to be one hundred and twenty-five years old and to have a membership of six thousand.

Mr. Edward E. Cooper, of Washington D. C., who is a special agent for the Department of Commerce and Labor, is again in Nashville. It is not known how long he will be here as he is on official business.

Miss Nannie Brooks entertained a number of friends Friday evening December 28, at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. S. Brooks, on the Harding Road. With the house in the regulation holiday attire of holly, mistletoe and bells, a brilliant sight was presented. Miss Brooks was assisted in receiving by her two sisters, Misses Minnie and Pearl Douglass Brooks. At a suitable hour an elaborate collation was served. Miss Mary E. Wright served egg-nog on the arrival of the guests, which included Misses Anna P. Burford, Hattie Jones, Ally Mal Vaughn, Clare Adams, Mary E. Wright, Samie Mays, Mary Nolen, Messrs. Burford, Rhodes, Turner, of St. Paul, Gibson, Nichol, Burford, Turner, Burford, Head and Compton. An orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hightower, of 33 Lewis street, entertained Sunday, December 30th, in honor of Mrs. James A. Davis, matron of Turner Normal Institute, who spent the holidays in the city, the house guest of Mrs. M. E. Bryant. Quite an elaborate luncheon of five courses was served. Little Miss Clara M., who has just recovered from a spell of la grippe served the guest with frappe. She was assisted by her cousin, Johnnie White. The following enjoyed the hospitalities: Mrs. James A. Davis and daughter Flossie, Mrs. M. E. Bryant, Mrs. J. V. White and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Bunch.

Miss Nannie H. Burroughs, the Corresponding Secretary of the Woman's Convention, an auxiliary to the National Baptist Convention with headquarters in Louisville, Ky., is slated to reach Nashville some time during the latter part of January or the first of February. Her mission here will be in the interest of the Convention and the manual training school, which will possibly be located in Washington, D. C.

Mr. F. D. Patterson, of the C. R. Patterson and Sons carriage manufacturers, located at Greenfield, Ohio, was in Nashville Monday. Mr. Patterson represents one of the largest carriage factories in the middle West. Notwithstanding it is a Negro corporation, it has stood the close competition for three generations and has been in the Patterson family all the time. The first Pattersons began as repairers of wagons and buggies and built up a business. The second Pattersons improved upon it and the present generation of Pattersons are proving equally as industrious, if not more progressive, as Mr. Fred Douglass Patterson spends most of his time on the road selling directly to the trade. It is said that he solicited some excellent orders in Nashville. It is learned that some of the professional men placed orders for handsome turnouts and that the two colored livery stables gave large orders for vehicles to be delivered early in the spring. It is pleasing to note that our people are learning fast how to patronize not only home industries, as has long been the plea, but racial industries as they ought to do.

Indications are that Nashville will have one of the best city directories that has ever been turned out by any Southern city. The work of compiling this Directory is in the hands of Marshall-Bruce-Polk Co., who are sparing no pains in getting all the information that one might need to go in this Directory.

Mrs. J. C. Napier, the President of the Day Home Club, has issued a call for a special meeting of the club at the Day Home, No. 618 Fourth avenue, South, Monday afternoon, January 14, at 3 o'clock. New members will be admitted and all those who have contributions of any kind will please send them.
